LITTLE BABY BOY DIES
After several weeks of suffering and while surrounded by those who adored and loved him, and after medical science had done all within its power to relieve him, little Ben Prall, the two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Prall Drake, died at the residence of his grandmother, Mrs. Sarah B. Drake, Wednesday evening at seven o'clock. The little fellow died from the rare blood disease, lymphatic leukemia, the cause of which is unknown to medical science.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. S. Wilson, assisted by Rev. W. D. Nowlin, burial in Maple cemetery. The young couple have the heart-felt sympathy of many friends in the loss of their loved one.

Mrs. Mary E. Guilfoile, of the county, has announced the engagement of her daughter, Margaret Gertrude to Mr. Ralph Lonnie Barnard, of this city, the wedding to take place some time in November.

Miss Guilfoile is a most attractive young woman possessing those sweet attributes of character that make the home life so lovely and happy and in winning her for a companion down the pathway of life Mr. Barnard is indeed fortunate.

Mr. Barnard is the eldest son of Mr. S. C. Barnard, a prominent merchant of this city, and is associated with his father in business. He is a young man of pleasing personality and quite popular with a large circle of friends. This wedding is the culmination of a happy courtship which began when both young people were attending the County High School, both being graduates of the class of 1915.

HODGE MORRIS WINNER

Mr. Hodge Morris has been declared the winner of the fine steel rod and reel offered by the Bassett Drug Co., to the Montgomery county fisherman catching the largest bass during the season. Mr. Morris caught a bass weighing 3 pounds and 13 ounces out of Slate creek during the early spring. There were quite a number of nice fish caught but none of them as large as that of Mr. Morris. The Bassett Drug Co. carries an especially fine line of reels, rods, etc., and the offering of the above prize was a good advertising scheme.

POLITICS AND WAR

"I have been in every capital in Europe except Petrograd and on every battle front," says W. G. Sheppard, the great war correspondent. "I have seen the horrors of war and the results of war, the mental, the moral, the physical and material wrecks caused by war. I have seen the efforts of the Allies to draw the United States into war with Germany, of Germany to draw us into war with England. There were times over there when we held our breath lest the United States be dragged into the struggle, and war seemed the only way out."

"But always sane, sound, steady, the United States came through. It was a magnificent thing to see from our point of vantage in Europe. It made one thrill to realize that the United States was his own country."

"Now, when I return home, I find an election campaign under way. I hear men say that we have peace without honor. We, in the European capitals, who saw our government escape the war traps, felt no loss of honor. We were always able to look the other fellow in the eye and be proud. No one over there ever seriously charged us with loss of honor, and men are highly sensitive to such things over there."

"We were proud of American sanity and of American statesmanship and that cool, calm reckoning of the American people which prevented them from being stampeded."

"It was a fine, thrilling thing to be an American in European capitals and to know that in our own capital at Washington there were men as shrewd and as far-sighted as any of the statesmen of Europe; to know, also, that the statesmen in Washington were sturdier, saner, less influenced by hate and bitterness and better able to judge right and wrong than the wisest statesmen in Europe."

"And to come home now to the U. S. and witness the attempt to thrust from the guidance of American affairs the government which had led the U. S. through this maze of diplomacy and machination is, to one who has witnessed affairs from the European end, little short of terrifying. It is like playing with dynamite."

"Certainly the steadiness of our government is as important to us as the steadiness of their government is to Germans or Britishers; our danger is as great, if not so imminent and apparent as theirs. The certain grasp of our present government on war affairs is as important to us as the grasp of Von Bethmann-Hollweg or Asquith is to Germany or England."

—From Chicago Day Book.

AMERICAN BOYS IN FIELDS RATHER THAN TRENCHES

"Why are you for Woodrow Wilson?" I asked a mountain woman. "Because I have ten boys, six of them voting, and I'd rather have them in the fields than to have them either shot down or shooting down others in the trenches. I praise Woodrow Wilson for keeping our boys safe at home."—Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart.

This mountain woman has stated the very strongest reason why the mothers of this country are for Woodrow Wilson and are asking their boys to support him. It is said that in Berlin and Paris, in Vienna and in London every woman you see on the street is dressed in mourning. Death has invaded every home in all of these cities. Either a brother, a father, or a husband has been killed in the trenches. We want none of this for our mothers, daughters and wives. We cannot spare our young men from the fields to fight. Peace is the greatest blessing any country can enjoy, and war the most horrible thing that can befall a nation. Woodrow Wilson has kept this nation at peace and Charles Hughes may criticize the way he has done and indicates that it should have been done some other way, but the fact remains that we have peace, and the others of this country, like the mountain woman, are satisfied to have peace and are not the least bit interested in the fact that Mr. Hughes is opposed to what Wilson has done to secure it.—Elizabeth-town News.

THE TROOPS ON THE BORDER?

"Charges that the troops on the Mexican border are mistreated or starved are groundless."

Thus emphatically stated Captain W. A. Rosenfield, of Rock Island, Ill., now at home on a thirty-day furlough from the camp at Brownsville, Tex.

Captain Rosenfield is one of the leading Republican chieftains of Illinois, but does not stand for the Republican "dope" about the National Guard. He continued his statement as follows:

"There is nothing to the charges that the troops have been mistreated or starved. They receive regular army rations—nothing more. They should have expected nothing more. But there were kicks and plenty of them."

"Protests came from the soldiers who in their lives back home were used to anything. They are the fellows who kicked. The soldiers who were accustomed to the better mode of living registered no protests with the rations set before them. They accepted the food, knowing army life does not provide the best of everything. They were satisfied."

"With Excess Uric Acid in Your System You Can Never Be Free From Rheumatism"

Why? Because any exposure to cold, drafts, dampness or nervous shocks chills your blood; it strangles the uric acid crystallizes and forms deposits of needle-like particles which lodge in the joints and tissues. Intense pain and Rheumatism. It was precisely for just this condition that Kampfmüller's Rheumatic Remedy was conceived.

In a perfectly harmless way it acts as an eliminating agency. The excess uric acid crystals are dissolved; they are carried off through the bowels and kidneys; inflammation and swelling go down quickly. When your system is entirely freed of the excess of this poison you are cured!

PREWITT & HOWELL

It is an old saying that two heads are better than one, and on the same principle two heads together are better than when they are facing in opposite directions. It will pay us to keep our heads together in this city, for the good of the city and each individual in the city.

When we are facing in opposite directions and pulling apart we get nowhere and accomplish nothing. The result of our labors is a cipher.

But not so when we get our heads together. Not so when we act as a community and not as individuals. Not so when we all face a definite object and pull until we get there.

It is good to keep our heads together. We learn each other's ideas and ambitions and thoughts, and from this knowledge springs the impetus that brings success to any community.

Let's get our heads together in this city, and keep them here.

A LAME DEFENSE

Candidate Hughes' defense against ex-Secretary Olney's charge of responsibility for the eight-hour law is remarkable. He says:

"Mr. Olney asks why I did not urge the twenty-eight Republican senators to filibuster to the last ditch. Well, I do not believe in filibustering, for one thing. If Congress through its majority determined to pass the bill there was no reason whatever why its action should be merely delayed by filibustering. Arguments along this line really come to this, that in some way the administration should have been saved from itself."

This indicates that Mr. Hughes believes a minority in either House of Congress should oppose no measure of a majority; opposition on the part of the minority against any party measure of the dominant party is an attempt to save the majority, the administration in power, from itself, and therefore to be censured. There is no escape from this conclusion.

For a brave man, a man who, from the implication of his own speeches, would have been able to frighten Germany into making any concession and to have awed Mexico into a complete state of law and order along the border, this dislike of fighting to the last ditch, this repugnance of filibustering is peculiar. Some of the best and bravest fights against unwise laws, have been won by minorities filibustering. It is a thing that should not be done, all admit, except as a last resort. But as a last resort it sometimes profoundly affects the good and welfare of the country.

And, moreover, he says filibustering would "merely have delayed action." Yet two days' debate, too short a space of time to be really called filibustering, would have brought Monday, and with Monday the strike and the whole situation would have been changed.

One fact incapable of denial or distortion is that seventy Republicans in the House voted for the bill to become a law, and twenty-eight Republican senators allowed it to pass the senate when with all ease they could have defeated it. If they did this because they thought that under the circumstances such a law was better than a strike, well and good,—they did right. But if they thought, as Mr. Hughes did, and have no other reason for their failure to act than the one Mr. Hughes assigns, they signally failed in their duty and deliberately did so for a wicked purpose, a purpose not cleansed of dishonor by the fact that it was a political purpose. Well might Mr. Olney say, "A pettier and more ignominious game of politics never was conceived."

The fellow who goes through life kicking at other people usually is propelled into eternity by a kick from the devil. Kicking don't pay either the kicker or the fellow who is kicked. The injustice of an unjust kick leaves many a heartache behind which rankles and grows into bitterness which lasts for months and years. At times it ceases only with the death of the victim. But the victim of the kick is not the only one who loses in the game. The kicker makes a reputation for himself with every kick that he gives, and that reputation follows him through life. When the day comes that he needs the services of a friend he often finds that he has kicked the only people to whom it is possible for him to turn. He loses because he has kicked himself out of the confidence of his fellowmen. Don't kick.

Every person knows his own mind, but it is not every one who knows how to apply it. Many have positive convictions on certain subjects, but have not the power of will to assert those convictions in the face of determined opposition.

Every person has a mind of his own, but each mind is susceptible to influence from other minds, both great and small. The bubbles of the fool will sink into the brain of the man of intellect, and sooner or later will have its effect in one way or another. The fool listens to the wise man and immediately imagines that he is himself the fount of wisdom. The man who walks the middle course absorbs both the wisdom and the foolishness of the others.

When it comes to paying taxes we just walk right up and fork over our two cents as cheerfully as our neighbors cough up their dollars.

Here we have Candidate Hughes phanting and playing hard for the German-American vote and Roosevelt "skinning 'em alive" to get the anti-German vote for Hughes.

We see Candidate Hughes and his chairman, Wilcox, condemning the child labor law as a fraud and a hoax and a joker, and Senator Cummins and ex-Senator Beveridge praising it; Senator Cummins saying that "anyone who denounces it is either ignorant or incompetent."

Here is Candidate Hughes opposing and criticising the Adamson eight-hour law, and seventy Republican Congressmen who voted for it running for re-election on their records, and the twenty-eight Republican senators who allowed the bill to pass when they could have easily defeated it.

We have innumerable Republican speakers, from Candidate Hughes down, saying that our prosperity is "fluctuations," "merely temporary," or "consisting wholly of war munitions," and on the other hand every bank and railroad and big business house making reports showing business in the most prosperous condition, and the stocks on the market all going up.

A Card to Owners of Rural Telephone Lines

We are anxious to see that all lines owned by other parties and connected with us are kept in such condition as to furnish efficient service. Where the owners of rural lines are responsible for their upkeep, we want to co-operate with them.

All lines require a thorough overhauling occasionally if the best service is to be obtained. We recommend that every line connected with us be overhauled at least once a year, and that at least one experienced telephone man assist in this work. The cost of this work when divided among all the patrons of the line, makes the amount paid by each man small, and this cost will be more than offset by the improved service.

If the owners of rural telephone lines in this section are experiencing trouble with their service, we will appreciate their talking the matter over with our Manager or writing us fully. We will gladly do what we can toward helping you improve the condition of your line.

PRESIDENT WOODROW WILSON

"I am for the average man. He is the backbone of the country. The man who is above the average uses him, and ought to respect his tool, ought to respect his instrument through which the very life blood of the country flows."—At Chamber of Commerce, Columbus, O., Dec. 10, 1915.

RE-ELECT MR. WILSON

Two weeks from today the voters of the United States will determine whether Mr. Wilson shall remain in charge of the ship of state, or an experiment shall be made by the selection of Mr. Hughes, an untried man.

All must admit that many delicate questions have arisen in the past few months. A mistake in the solution of any of them, would have caused us much embarrassment, if not very serious consequences. Mr. Wilson, whom his enemies chose to call a school teacher, soon demonstrated, we think, to the satisfaction of all fair-minded citizens, that he was not only a school teacher, with a trained mind, but an incorruptible, patriotic statesman, as well. There is therefore, neither wisdom nor reason for a change. Mr. Wilson has made good and why not let well-enough alone?

The people are all at work and not at war. Peace and plenty abound on all sides and whether Mr. Hughes' election would actually mean war, as some contend, or not, it certainly would mean a hazardous re-adjustment of policies, tried and found sound in principle, a shaking up of existing conditions and a period of unrest.

Just as Senator Beckham aptly said in a recent address: "Is it wise to take that hand from the helm before we have reached the end of the hard journey? Is it the custom of passengers on a ship, when a pilot has safely carried them through the storm and tempests of the sea, to throw him overboard, and substitute in his place an untrained and inexperienced man? Does the farmer, or the merchant, or the banker discharge a faithful and efficient servant just to give the place to some untried fellow who happens to want the job? Do you know of any successful business concern that follows the practice of dismissing its manager who has capably and satisfactorily conducted its business, simply to gratify the appetites of some hungry office-seekers?"

Few men are doing more effective work in the present campaign than Senator J. C. W. Beckham. Everywhere he has gone he has made votes or will divide into two sums for the Democratic ticket. Last week the Mayfield Messenger said:

"Senator Beckham improves in wisdom and stability as the years go by, and if he has had any political enemies in the past in Graves county they are nearly all gone. To make a long story short, he received the very best of attention by all who were present, and left here conscious of the fact that he had strengthened the Democratic enthusiasm of Graves county, believing that our slogan, '5,000 votes for Wilson,' will be accomplished."

Every day prominent Republicans are announcing themselves for Woodrow Wilson. Last week Hon. J. W. Dawson, of Charleston, W. Va., a Republican presidential elector, withdrew his name as such and in a letter to the Chairman of the Republican Campaign Committee says a vote for Judge Hughes is a vote for the "old guard" and that he is unwilling to give his support to the "crooks of 1912."

Those who favor war and are opposed to the President's peace policy, should remember the statement of David Starr Jordan, Chancellor of Leland Stanford University, in a recent speech, when he said: "If the bodies of those killed in the European war were laid side by side, they would reach from New York City to San Francisco and back."

WOMEN ARE FOR WILSON

Editors The Advocate,
Mt. Sterling, Ky.,

Dear Sirs:—

Please announce in a conspicuous place in your paper, that the women have opened Democratic Headquarters in Louisville at the Seelbach Hotel, where they will gladly welcome their friends.

They hope and pray for the sake of peace and preventing the unnecessary bloodshed of our boys, that a Woodrow Wilson Women's League be organized in your county.

Send the names as soon as possible into Headquarters. Our time is limited, we urge haste. We heartily welcome all encouraging letters and callers.

Yours for continued PEACE AND PROSPERITY.

MRS. HARDIE B. RIPPY,
Chairman.

LOOKING BENEATH THE SURFACE

You wouldn't think of buying an expensive coat without examining the lining, but how few women ever stop to look at the inside of a new shoe. Think how many hours a day you spend in shoes. Then consider the importance of the inner surface which incases the feet. Smooth lining, carefully sewed so they can't wrinkle, are but one of the little details that make so comfortable. No rough bottoms, no loose threads, no rough inner seams are ever found in J & K shoe-making.

Plenty of toe room, plenty of heel room and that inimitable smooth fitting arch—all add to superior advantages of J & K Shoes.

A SHAMELESS ADMISSION

The leading Republican paper of Central Kentucky, speaking doubtless by the card, says that "Mr. Hughes and the Republican party will welcome the votes of any American citizen, regardless of his nationality and regardless of his sympathies so far as the war in Europe is concerned." While Mr. Hughes by his silence has given consent to the charge that he is the candidate of the hyphenates and if elected his victory will be regarded as a victory for the Kaiser, he has disregarded all attempts to draw him out in the matter, but this open admission by a supporter that he is seeking the aid of those disloyal to this country and who hold the fatherland in higher esteem will increase the multitude that he was driven from him by the belief that he is in league with those who scorn the slogan, American First, unless he will have the courage to repudiate the charge, if not true, which he is not likely to do.

In his speech of acceptance of the nomination, President Wilson said he neither sought the favor nor feared the displeasure of the disloyalists and when assailed by the president of the American Truth Society, so-called, replied: "I would feel deeply mortified to have you or anybody like you vote for me. Since you have access to many disloyal Americans and I have not, I will ask you to convey this message to them."

These are the words of the true American and have the bark on them. Will Mr. Hughes be as courageous and as explicit? Alas no, nor will he deserve the vote of a single American who holds his country over all others. Vote for President Wilson and put the seal of condemnation on disloyalty.

HUGHES OUT OF THE QUESTION

Mr. Watterson says that "Hughes is out of the question. His case is hopeless. The people believe that a change of parties in the government now would put every interest, especially every international interest in more or less peril."

There has never been a doubt in the minds of the better informed that Wilson would succeed himself. Any other result would be suicidal and an overwhelming calamity. The voters realize this and do not intend to be guilty of the foolish performance of swapping horses in the middle of the stream.

MR. HUGHES' SECOND VISIT

Mr. Hughes has come and gone again and still the Republican are not happy. They spent thousands of dollars, contributed by the interests that want to run the government, made a good deal of noise and put on a show of enthusiasm but down in their hearts they were doubtless asking "what is the use?" They have not a chance on their lives to carry Kentucky and they realize it. It is simply a bluff that they are putting up to fool the people and make those who are coughing up the coin think they are on to the job. In Louisville they fired bombs, hired bands, had whistles blown and paid $5.00 apiece for automobiles to haul people in the parade to hear the same old stuff the 100 per cent. candidate had been mouthing since he mounted the raging stump, except that he did say in answer to a question that he would have prevented the Lusitania horror by threats of the severance of diplomatic relations with Germany. It is pretty safe to assume that Mr. Hughes did his party little good and Democracy no harm in his second visit. He and his followers will soon be asking themselves why was so much money spent instead of being given to the poor. Alas, how quickly a fool and his money is parted.

TRYING BOTH TO BUY AND STEAL

The Republicans are making a feint to win votes in Kentucky by speeches. They know that they will profit them nothing. Their real effort is directed to buying or stealing the state, but they will find that neither will avail. Watchful Democrats are on guard and will clobber them at every corner. They are not going to stand for any dirty work and those caught at it will get their dues in the penitentiary.

LADIES, BEWARE OF HUGHES, HE'S FOOLING THEE

Among the first utterances of Candidate Hughes after his nomination was to declare for a constitutional amendment for woman suffrage, when his party had in National convention assembled said that it should be adopted by action of the states. His precipitancy was doubtless due to the fact that he was anxious to secure the female vote in the ten states that have adopted equal suffrage and to create the impression that he was always for votes for women. But the record is against him. The question was voted on in 1915 in New York, where Mr. Hughes maintains his legal residence, but did not think it worth while to go home to vote. President Wilson has made no especial noise as to his belief that women should be given the ballot, but action speaks louder than words. When the question was voted on in New Jersey the same year he made it a point to go home and vote for it. And yet there are women foolish enough to be fooled by the transparent electioneering dodge of the 100 per cent. candidate. Mr. Hughes is no more for equal suffrage than he has proven himself a good citizen. He has not voted at all since 1908. Beware of him ladies, he is fooling thee.

His illustrations are apt and impressive. There seems to be a great meeting before him. Those who are of the great congregations are intensely interested. Up to and including Monday night there were 22 additions. The illustrative scripture quotations with responsive from the administrator of the baptismal ordinance were impressive and instructive. Announcements for the week are 2:30 o'clock in the afternoons and 7:00 o'clock in the evenings. Music with the great pipe organ and piano and a full choir is inspiring. Don't miss the opportunity at hand.

TWILIGHT SLEEP FILMS TO BE EXHIBITED HERE

Arrangements have been made to show the famous "Twilight Sleep" motion pictures illustrating the "Twilight Sleep" treatment for maternity, at the Tabb Theatre on the afternoon and evening of Nov. 1st. The pictures are the same films shown in eastern cities in recent months by the Motherhood society and aroused such interest that "The Motherhood Society" has arranged for a tour of leading cities in the west. At Minneapolis the engagement was extended another week and Prof. Arthur H. Rolnick, who delivered a lecture based upon the treatment, made trips each afternoon to St. Paul where he again addressed large audiences at the opera house there. He is to speak preceding the showing of the pictures in the Tabb Theatre and will give the details of the mode of inducing the "sleep" in an intimate way serving to give every person in the audience a clear understanding of the process and its effects.

In the afternoon the performances will be shown to ladies only and in the evening to men only.

The pictures show "twilight" mothers and babies illustrating the rationale of the treatment with no objectionable features.

One of the most remarkable achievements in the motion picture field is their use for simplifying lectures upon scientific subjects. By their use Dameschiff, the German treatment for painless childbirth, called "Twilight Sleep" in this country, is made clear together with its whys and whyfours, after effects and advantages. By them it is demonstrated that the Freiburgh, Germany method of painless childbirth is no longer an experiment. The value and merits of Scopoloman which produces a forgetfulness as a substitute for chloroform and morphia is no longer an experiment.

Dr. Arthur H. Rolnick's lecture will point out interesting details in every fact that a woman or a man, for that matter, would like to know about the treatment. The pictures, beautiful examples of motion picture art, were made during a twilight operation in a private sanitarium in New York. They show every step of the treatment. Pictures galore of twilight mothers and babies will be shown—twilight babies of every age from ten days up to three years old.

NO FINANCIAL DISTURBANCE

In previous presidential years, the Republicans have laid great stress on their claim that the election of a Democrat meant financial disaster as the party was incapable of administering the affairs of government. You have not heard any thing of the kind this year. The Democrats have been demonstrating the falsity of such a claim for nearly four years in a most successful administration of affairs and have so changed the banking laws that Republican money kings cannot throw a panic at will. Financial affairs were never in better condition nor business more flourishing. The old familiar scare crow has been relegated to the junk shop for good and all. This in the face of the certainty of the re-election of Wilson is praise indeed of the benefits that his administration have brought. Vote to continue it.

SOME FACTS ABOUT

THE W. C. T. U.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of this State has just started on its 37th year of work, the 36th Annual Convention having convened in Lexington about two weeks ago. The work of the State W. C. T. U. is very notable, and prominent, and a resume of its work for the past twenty-one years is remarkable, as well as satisfying. These years have been marked with many triumphs and achievements, with no losses. Twenty-one years ago when Mrs. Beauchamp first became President of the State organization, there were enrolled three hundred members, with an indebtedness of $300. There are now thirty-six hundred women enrolled as members. The Woman's Christian Temperance Union has the distinction of being the largest organization of women in the world.

One of the most important features of the work done by the W. C. T. U. is the scientific temperance instruction law. After a long steady fight the battle was won, and today every school in the State except cities of the first and second class, are compelled to teach scientific temperance, and Gulick's Physiology are used. The Quarterly Temperance Lesson in the Sunday Schools, has far reaching influence. The Kentucky W. C. T. U. has her part in this great work. This great achievement through the combined influence of all the states working through the National W. C. T. U. was accomplished.

The department of domestic science was first advocated by the W. C. T. U. Committees went before the State University Board many times on this important question, finally through the joint influence of the W. C. T. U., the Woman's Club and the Equal Rights' Association domestic science was put in State University, the public schools of Lexington, and in many of the public schools in other towns of the State.

Persistent petition work finally got the bill passed in the State Legislature asking for a dormitory for young women in State University, which has been located and occupied for several years.

The amendment to the Constitution prohibiting the manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquors in the State has been before two Legislatures. The whole force of the administration was against the bill in the last Legislature.

Under the direction and plans of the W. C. T. U., the Settlement School was established at Hindman, in Knott county, some eighteen or twenty years ago, where untold good has been done. Oft times the question is asked "Why is the W. C. T. U. doing these things on the outside, rather than advocating prohibition only." The answer might well be made that the W. C. T. U. is a home-protecting organization, for anything that affects the homes of the State is a matter of direct interest to the organization. Our purpose is to make a larger home of the State that will be fit for children to be born into and brought up in. The W. C. T. U. in connection with others asked that all colleges in Kentucky receive women on equal terms with men. Transylvania University was the first institution to grant the request, which was rapidly followed by all other like institutions.

What, admits that the hitherto rock-ribbed state of Illinois is very doubtful—a fact some time ago known to those familiar with the situation.

Francis J. Macey states that California is sure for Wilson, the Progressives there not being sheep that follow blindly, but people whose politics are based on principles.

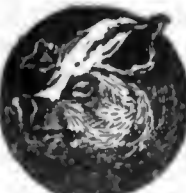

David Lawrence, of the New York Evening Post, after a tour of the state of Minnesota, puts that state in the Wilson column, and Michigan is placed beside it by many political judges. Strong corroboration is given this by the fact that Michigan is being given ten times the amount of attention usually given it by the Republicans. From the big guns they are firing there one would think it a Democratic Verdun instead of a state usually rolling up a 200,000 Republican majority.

From every state reports backed by solid facts and reasoning come in showing a tide of faith and loyalty toward the President moving steadily over the land.

It may lack sound and fury and spectacularity; there are none of the "flaying" or "scourging" or the "skinning them alive" features in the movement such as characterized the Republican campaign. It is too deep for sound or foam. But it moves forward and onward with inevitable impetus, having behind it as its source and force the growing belief that President Wilson has preserved us from war and more than maintained, has in fact increased the national honor; that he has served the farming interests and the laboring interests as well as the financial and business interests of the nation with wisdom and courage; that he has emancipated the children of the country, served the cause of humanity abroad and kept faith with the American people and with the world.

The belligerent nations want us to feed them, and they all want to kick us, and that's about all we can expect from them and it's quite all we will get from them.

E. P. Ripley, one of the bitterest leaders against the Brotherhoods' fight for the eight-hour law, who announced that his railroad would not obey the law, is president of the Santa Fe Railroad.

Despite the fact that $2,500,000 is charged to loss due to storms, fires and floods in its territory, the Santa Fe Railroad, in its official statement of expense for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1916, announces that the net earnings of the road show an increase of $8,457,398 over the preceding year. Mr. Ripley signs the statement.

LA FOLLETTE ON

THE EIGHT-HOUR LAW

Senator Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, the only Republican senator to vote for the Eight-hour law, in a signed editorial in the September issue of his magazine defends the passage of the above law and endorses the sentiments of President Wilson's speech at Shadow Lawn Saturday, the 23rd.

Says the Senator:

"The Eight-hour law is not a force bill. The Railway employees demanded an eight-hour day from the railroads. They made no demand on Congress. As was their right, they set a day to quit work in case their demand was refused. Then the railroads inaugurated a strike against the public. They refused to accept freight for shipment, especially perishable goods, in many parts of the country. They spent tremendous sums of money in an effort to influence public sentiment and this money must eventually come out of the pockets of the people. The strike meant appalling disaster to farmers, to fruit growers, great damage to all business, including the railroads.

"The President was not successful in averting the disaster, the railroad managers being particularly obstinate and refusing to concede the principle of the eight-hour day. The President put the matter up to Congress, and Congress, considering only the public good, riding in the public interest. It was not forced by any demands of the workmen or of the railroads. The public interest demanded immediate action, and Congress acted and passed the law. Every Wisconsin representative present voted for the bill, and I believe they were right in doing so. I believe in the eight-hour day.

"Did Congress act without due consideration? The question of the eight-hour day for skilled labor was not new. Every congressman alive to the issues of the day must have been familiar with the subject.

"When the sixteen-hour limitation for railroad employees was under consideration it was met by the same argument made against the eight-hour law. Railroads and some other large employers are slow to learn, but experience has abundantly shown that for the trades, professions and crafts were skill, courage and caution are required the eight-hour day is the maximum of efficiency."

TOWN FACTIONS

Perhaps no other one factor yields so great an influence in retarding the growth and prosperity of a town as factionalism. It spreads itself as a pall over the community life, and under its malignant influence all progress withers like a pear tree under the blight. No amount of energy and public spiritedness is sufficient to survive its depressing effects.

Take the average town torn by factionalism. A measure of public improvement is proposed. It comes from one of the two factions. It really has merit and would be beneficial to the town. Does it meet with approval? Yes—from that side of the house. From the other side, bitter opposition. Why? No mortal man can tell, except that it emanated from "the other side."

There you have the meat in the coconut. "The other side" stands for everything that is undesirable and vicious.

And it is a sad commentary of our boasted Christian civilization that this spirit of bitter factionalism too frequently originates where it should never be found—in the churches. With them, all too frequently, "our folks" does not mean, as it should, all of God's creatures, but is contracted to apply to "our church," be it Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, Episcopal, or what not.

Again in many small towns, this factionalism centers in the banks. Each has its following. Each is striving not only to build up its own fortunes but to tear down the other.

But from whatever source, the fact remains—and the factionalism flourishes—a sad commentary on the boasted "progressiveness" of our countrymen.

And the pity of it is that it is all useless and fruitful of no good results to either side.

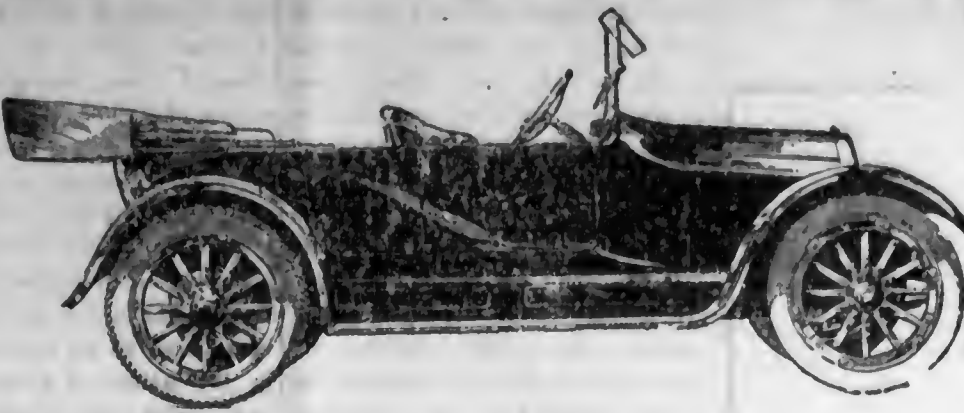

United effort would invariably accomplish for both what divided wrangling accomplishes for neither. There is a world of truth in the

WILSON AND THE FARMER

"The present is the first administration that has made a determined effort to show the farmer how to get satisfactory prices for his harvests. Former administrations have shown the farmer how to fight the boll weevil, the chinch bug, the army worm and other insect pests. But this is the first administration that has dared to make common cause with the farmer against the usurer, the transportation shark, the fake middle man, and the other human pests who in the past have grown rich on the produce of the farmer's toil.

"With these things accomplished in little more than three years, after twenty years of weary waiting, the road to greater freedom is not backward to the old order but forward, holding steadfast to these friends who have proved true."—The Farmers' Open Forum.

HOW LABOR WILL VOTE

"Democrats say Wilson will get the labor vote because of his legislative record. Republicans say labor never votes solidly, and that it will split up for Wilson, Hughes or Benson. That's one of the problems of the election—will labor see that organized capital is back of Hughes, and then get back of Wilson? Or will labor split three ways while capital is voting one way? And spending its money one way, too. Reports from New York say that the Hughes' campaign fund will make the Hanna-McKinley fund of 1896 look like a piker."

SYSTEMATIZE

Your household expenses by opening a bank account for your wife. Give her a check book and teach her the use of it. Pay the butcher, the grocer, the baker, with a check. Then at the end of the month you'll find out just how much it costs you to run the home. When payment by check is made there never is any doubt as to whether or not a bill is paid. The check is a receipt.

Besides, a checking account will give your wife a business education. The number of ordinarily bright women who know absolutely nothing of banking is surprising. If you are a husband, father, brother, you cannot tell when death may overtake you, and it is well that your wife, daughter and sister know something of banking.

LABORING IN VAIN AND WASTING MONEY

The bringing again of Hughes to Kentucky and the injection of the fiery Roosevelt into the campaign here shows that the Republican leaders still have hopes of carrying the old Commonwealth by appeals to passion and cupidity, by abuse of Wilson and the Democratic party and with the tainted money that Wall Street is supplying so lavishly. They are reckoning in vain, however. The Democrats are on to their game and every man intends to do his duty, which spells Republican defeat, labor lost and money wasted.

WILSON DAY

The National Committee has set apart October 23rd as Wilson Day, as a culmination of the nation wide canvass of the country for the people to show their appreciation of the great public service that the greatest of presidents has rendered the country. Every city, town and hamlet will celebrate the day, when a message will be read from President Wilson by some prominent person appointed locally for the purpose, which will proclaim the New Freedom and the emancipation of the country from the domination of Wall Street and the selfish interests. Business houses, residences, homes and other buildings will display the flag and other bunting. It is going to be a great day and a fitting forerunner of the glorious triumph of Democracy ten days later. Let everybody celebrate Wilson Day and register his approval of the many splendid achievements of the consecrated man in the White House, all great, but none greater than that he has kept the country out of war with honor and credit.

UNWORTHY OF CONFIDENCE

The Republicans being without arguments are waving the bloody shirt and trying to create sectional animosities. They say a Southern man is President, that all the important positions in Congress are held by Southern men and that the South is in saddle generally. President Wilson took occasion, when in Indianapolis to address a good roads convention, to say that the Democratic party is not a sectional party and that any man who gives the issue of sectionalism in this country is unworthy of the confidence of the nation. This is well and properly said, but the president shouldn't be so hard on the poor fellows. They have to say something and being without arguments they are compelled to resort to most any kind of effort, disreputable as it may be.

EASY AS ROLLING OFF A LOG

The Boston Post is disposed to poke fun at the Republican managers, when it says that all that has been necessary, according to them, to win the great doubtful states of Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and Ohio was to turn Mr. Hughes loose in a speech or two and the thing was done. And now the evasive candidate has only to open his mouth in a sufficient number of Democratic states and behold there is no need of an election. Nothing in the nature of a sure thing has been easier since the histrionic career of Col. Mulberry Sellers. It is doubtful if Candidate Hughes has won enough vote in his swing around the circle to make an impression, while it is absolutely certain that his evasive speeches have added votes to the Democratic column. The people hate a dodger and a straddler. Mr. Hughes has not increased the respect for him in his efforts as a 100 per cent candidate. A common scold is a very undesirable citizen and that's all Mr. Hughes is.

DIDN'T DEIGN TO ANSWER

The railroad men asked Mr. Hughes in Louisville if he is elected will he sign or veto the eight-hour law should Congress pass a bill to repeal. But he vouchsafed no reply as he is in the way of the railroad managers and doubtless thinks it is beneath his dignity to answer the men who labor. But they will show him a thing or two. The railroad brotherhoods will vote almost solidly for Wilson.

EVERY DEMOCRAT EXPECTED TO DO HIS DUTY

There are five campaign committees in each precinct in the state whose duty it is to see that every Democrat or other person who will vote the Democratic ticket shall go to the polls on Nov. 7th and cast his ballot. These gentlemen have been appointed because of their enthusiasm and energy and it is safe to assume that they will do their full duty. If they do and a full vote is recorded there will be no doubt of the outcome. Kentucky is naturally a Democratic State and it is only when Democrats fail of their duty that she departs from her traditions. There is every reason this year that every Democrat should be alert and let nothing keep him from the polls. President Wilson must be kept on guard to protect the honor of the nation without war if possible, and to maintain peace and prosperity. What he has done is a promise of what he will do to carry out the splendid program mapped out. Be sure to go to the polls and stamp under the rooster.

We furnish you nothing but home killed meats and the best on the market at Greenwade's.
